Social Language Groups: Creating the Communicators

We have fun while sharpening social skills.

Social groups are for children who

- ❖ Have difficulty making friends.
- ❖ Are on the Autism spectrum.
- ❖ Have repetitive or limited interests.
- ❖ Want to sharpen their communication skills.
- ❖ Wish to improve group social interactions.

Here's how it works

- ❖ Communication groups meet for one hour a week for ten weeks.
- ❖ Group size is 3 - 6 participants.

It is fun with a purpose

- ❖ Children will learn how to engage in interactive conversations.
- ❖ Learn together to use language to control the environment.
- ❖ Work on respecting personal space.
- ❖ Practice social language and practical language.
- ❖ Playing games facilitates taking turns and interacting with others.
