What: Free Parenting Workshops

When: Tuesdays in July: 9:00 am to 10:00 am Where: Therapy and Fun Summer Clinic

Located in Temple Emanuel Sunday School, 1715 E. Fulton, 49503 Why: Network, trade ideas, and learn new techniques from experts.

- July 3 Make and Take Sensory and Language Crafts Therapy and Fun Staff Learn how you can bring sensory activities and language builders home. Join us for oozy-gooey sensory activities and literacy games that you make and take!
- July 10 Financial Planning for your child with disabilities Dan Blauw, JD

 As your child grows you may need to focus on the legal side of providing for them in the future.

 Mr. Blauw's practice has always focused on disability law, including Special Needs Trusts, Guardianships, Public Benefit appeals, and Special Education appeals. Bring your questions.

- July 17 You Scream, I Scream, Let's all Stop Dr. Tom Rutledge, PhD
 Using common sense, humor and a surprisingly simple but powerful strategy, Dr. Tom provides tools that anyone can use to increase their parent comfort zone and their parent effectiveness.
- July 24 Best Nutrition Ideas Ever Shelby Noxo, Parent Educator YMCA We have extended the time to 10:30, for this hands-on nutrition discussion. Bring your nutrition and eating concerns to be discussed and answered.
- July 31 Navigating the Special Education Process

 Join the Director of Special Education for the Kent Intermediate School District (KISD) for an informative discussion on how special education works in KISD. Parent questions will be answered.

The general public is welcome to attend our Parent Workshops on Tuesdays in July. No need to register just show up! There is no childcare provided, except for babes in arms. Park in the back of Temple Emanuel and enter the regular Sunday school door. Our volunteers will direct you to the meeting room. Bring your questions.
